Manifestation Stones | Raw Crystals | Hand Forged Jewelry

BIO

Hi, I am Kerri; my mindful practice is making jewellery and working with crystals. My passion is Trichology and Epigenetics (cognitive behaviours); the human mind fascinates me. I am a hair loss and growth specialist due to stress, I strongly value a mindful lifestyle. Jewelry making is my mindful practice, and what was once a hobby is now a flourishing venture. All the items I design are made with an intention in mind; I love incorporating crystals, the art of gifting intentions, and manifestation practices in all I do. I come from a long line of professional makers and shakers and have been making and selling jewellery since I was a young child.

People who resonate with stones love to hold them, feel them, and carry them. However, when you find stones you connect with, you cannot always carry them around with you. So, I started making jewelry and pocket-size kits so you can have the benefits of their energies in your every day to day life. Whether you believe in the benefits of crystals or not, the placebo still plays a significant role in our minds. Each piece is selected with intention and purpose. We have many chapters in our lives, and every so often, we can use a boost. So, I put together cocktails of natural stones and crystals I thought resonated with specific topics and occasions. Crystals have been used and carried around by our ancestors from all walks of life dating back many years.

Sentimental Gems curates Crystal Kits and Jewelry based on manifestations and intentions. There is a variety of cultures that practice rock ceremonies or gifting oathing stones from around the world. It is a beautiful way of offering blessings and good wishes to newlyweds, new babies, ill people, or someone who is embarking on a new chapter of their life, or even it is to gift themselves.

Gifting someone a manifestation will help instill that intention that is being gifted to encourage the receiver to attract that affirmation into their life. The collections have been created to make true inner happiness more accessible by helping the receiver think about situations from a higher perspective and using that limitless "will" of knowing based on the laws of attraction. Albert Einstein noted that everything in life is vibration, and just like sound waves, your thoughts match the vibrations of everything that manifests in your life.

INSPIRATION

Having worked in the salon industry for over two decades - I have been part of many people's pivotal life's moments.

I had a salon that was located near a couple of crystal shops, and if I knew my client had a special life chapter I would pick up crystals in a satchel. If I had time I would make them a piece of jewellery with a cocktail of crystals curated around the intention to gift (ie. new house, broken heart, expecting mom, and so forth).

In 2013 I lost my salon to the Calgary Floods; many clients wanted to support me and started requesting crystal cocktails to gift to their loved ones. It was then my little accidental jewelry business started and Sentimental Gems was created.
